Application as a Typesetter

Dear Sir or Madam,

I read your job advertisement with great interest and would like to apply for the position you advertised.

For several years I have been working intensively on typographically high-quality typesetting and am familiar with both the Knuth-Plass algorithms and the specific requirements of the Duden rules for German typography.

In my current role at Sampleprint Ltd. I am responsible for book production from manuscript to print release. In that work I have learned to deliver demanding layouts that respect every convention — particularly where the typographic specifications are strict.

I would welcome the opportunity to introduce myself in a personal interview.

Yours faithfully,

Anna Sample
